

"Since being introduced to SOFHT in 2007, I have been extremely impressed by the events hosted by the society. Consistently covering areas that are vital to UK industry, and doing so in such a professional and informative way, has enabled me to recommend SOFHT to numerous colleagues within Cadbury Trebor Bassett.

As part of SOFHT, the networking opportunities are outstanding and I found that new technologies could be viewed and discussed well before the rest of industry followed suit. This will help SOFHT members to effectively lead the way in these fields, and will give member companies a head-start in this topical and relevant area.

Joining as an Individual Premium Member has enabled me to take a personal interest in the topmost level of food & hygiene technology and I have been able to personally recommend and deliver improvement programmes in a relatively short space of time.

Any food-related business would benefit from the opportunities presented by SOFHT and membership of this society is essential for any forward-looking and progressive firm."

Rosh Gungabissoon, Quality & Environment Manager for Cadbury Trebor Bassett