

Legislation Update Forum

Selected news, views and solutions on the latest UK & EU legislation

Keeping up-to-date with UK & EU legislation is paramount for those working in the food industry, whether you are a leading retailer, advisory consultant or Technical Manager. The Society of Food Hygiene and Technology recognises that staying in touch with rapidly changing requirements and maintaining an awareness of current legislation is critical.

To help our members stay alert to changes, the Society offer a legislation forum with industry leading experts to enable them to work through the minefield of information, offering solutions and guiding them to compliance. Each forum will be held at the SOFHT Training Room as a morning session.

This is a free benefit for all our members and we welcome your attendance. Help us lead the industry to compliance and consumer confidence.

Wednesday 9 July 2014
Registration 9am. Forum 9.30am - 12.30pm
at The Society of Food Hygiene and Technology, Middleton

This forum will discuss BRC Packaging Global Standard - Major Changes Coming led by Terry Robins from NSF International

FREE to SOFHT
members

Topic to be discussed:

Terry will lead a discussion on the current BRC Global Standard for packaging and packaging materials used within the food industry, and bring forward some key points from proposed changes to this standard. Indications are that some of the changes will be very radical ones and this is a great opportunity to find out what is on the horizon and for delegates to share some good working practices in how they are complying and achieving the current standard and what changes may need to be made in light of these changes. Whilst it's often the changes to legislation in relation to the actual foods that get the focus of attention, changes in the BRC for the packaging will also potentially impact significantly on all sorts of food businesses.
