

THE RULES FOR THE SOFHT AWARDS

SOFHT Awards Categories

1. The type of awards will be decided by Council in December of each year.
2. A brief will be set for each category.

Nominations

3. Nominations for awards will be submitted on the award form or online for that year.
4. Entrants can nominate themselves or be nominated by a person or company. At least two references to be provided for those nominating themselves.
5. Nominees or entrants must be SOFHT members based in the UK or internationally.
6. Employees of a business sponsoring an award will not be permitted to apply for the award they sponsor but will be eligible for nomination for any other awards.
7. All awards shall be submitted with a 100-word description with additional supporting material as appropriate:
 - a. Advice to entrants: Make your entry stand out!
How to make your entry stand out:
Each year the number of entries in each category increases, therefore to stand the best chance of being nominated as a finalist or of winning you need to make your entry stand out from the crowd and grab the judge's attention. The entry form allows 100 words to précis the nomination; previous winners have supported their entries with a high quality and relevant supporting information pack. If your entry is a product endorsement(s), test results and external verification will all enhance your entry. The attention to detail in the best entries we have received has been excellent, presenting the information in a clear, interesting and compelling manner and avoiding the temptation to provide too much information. We encourage you to enter and wish you the best of luck.
 - b. Nominations for Trainer and Training Company categories must supply details of courses undertaken in the past 12 months i.e. level of course and the number of candidate pass rates as well as a 5 minute YouTube video clip demonstrating an example of the training being undertaken.
 - c. Nominations for New Product category to confirm safety approvals; explain why it is different/better; explain features and benefits; whether it is a new product or new to UK market; provide example of the product if portable; if available independent evaluation of products. Nominations must confirm in writing that there are no legal disputes pending in relation to patent protection and/or intellectual property.
